

Kaged Muscle Refreshes Pre-Kaged with PINK LEMONADE and Needs Less Water

written by Mike Roberto | October 6, 2019

“You asked, we listened! ☐

Based on previous feedback customers asked us to develop flavors that you can mix with less water – so we did just that with Pink Lemonade.

This flavor tastes best at 12oz of water for a true Pink Lemonade flavor.

For those that like a little less sweet 14oz is recommended.”

The rock stars working with Kris Gethin and formulator Brian Rand over at Kaged Muscle take their supplement efficacy and purity seriously, but they take customer feedback even more seriously.

That's the hand of the one-and-only Kris Gethin, holding Kaged Muscle's latest creation – Pink Lemonade Pre-Kaged

Thanks to its monstrous, “ahead-of-its-time”, drug-tested formula that’s driven by fermented aminos, Pre-Kaged has long been one of our top-rated pre workout supplements. But due to the massive formula and the heavy amounts of flavoring systems used (in an effort to only use natural flavors, colors, and as little sucralose as possible), it's always required quite a bit of water. And not everyone wants to take down 16-20oz water or slowly sip their pre workout!

You spoke, and Kaged Muscle listened.

Pre-Kaged Pink Lemonade: Incredible Taste, Less Water Required

When the brand planned their next flavor, they kept the feedback in mind, and put together a Pink Lemonade system that worked with the same great formula, but less water!

I tried something new here, taking to IGTV to do an opening and flavor tasting:

@kagedmusclesupps and @krisgethin recently sent over their brand new PINK LEMONADE flavor of the their award winning and drug tested approved pre workout supplement, PRE-KAGED. Mike gives it a go and talks about how the formula was ahead of its time and how they keep the sucralose levels down by using stevia up front of it! Long story short? VERY well put together flavor, especially for Pink Lemonade fans. Putting it against the Mixed Berry flavor, which is sweeter, but this one is simply BETTER!!

Two things in the video above:

Not everyone is Branch Warren sized and can chug 20oz like it's nothing. Tawna Eubanks is stoked for a full dosing of Pre-Kaged in just 12oz!

1. Sorry for the swallow sound on the first sip. Embrace your poor ears. I was wearing a lav mic and forgot to cover it up for that swallow.
2. I compared it to the Mixed Berry flavor of Pre-Kaged, but used the same amount of water. No wonder why Mixed Berry tasted sweeter! It has a 16-20oz water recommendation and I was at 14oz, which I loved with Pink Lemonade.

Long story short, this flavor rocks – KM says it's best at 12oz, I think it's perfect at 14oz.

We had a lot of feedback from followers wishing for more Pink Lemonade flavors across the industry, and while we can't help with that, we can say that this one is right down the center in terms of sweetness and tartness – impressive for a natural flavor system fronted by stevia in an effort to keep sucralose low. The lemonade side does a fantastic job of keeping those fermented aminos in check.
