

Performax Labs EAminoMax Blueberry GINGER Lemonade!

written by Mike Roberto | March 21, 2022

There are “new flavors”, and then there are new flavors. This is the latter.

With the aggressive Performax Labs rebrand in the fall of 2021, we were promised three things:

- Powerful, cutting-edge, clinically-dosed formulas
- Refreshed labels that reflect those potent formulas
- Great, never-before-seen flavors

With products like HyperMax, VasoMax, and OxyMax, we saw that Team Performax wasn't kidding – unlike so many other brands that become popular, they did not weaken their formulas for the “mainstream”. They made them stronger.

And in the updated relaunch of EAminoMax, we got that treatment as well, with a fantastic and refreshing fully-disclosed formula and some incredibly unique flavors like Cucumber Lime, Passionfruit Ice Tea Lemonade, and Pineapple Mojito. And as wild (and well-put-together) as those flavors are, nothing prepared us for this one:

EAMINO MAX Blueberry Ginger Lemonade!

So how do you compete with your own incredible Passionfruit Ice Tea Lemonade flavor? With an enhanced blueberry lemonade: Blueberry Ginger Lemonade EAMINO MAX!

This one takes your traditional blueberry lemonade, and adds just a drop of ginger flavoring to give it some zip unlike anything you've ever tasted. And during a hot workout, it's incredibly refreshing – if you're into a quick blast of ginger!

Blueberry Ginger Lemonade?!

When Performax promised new flavors, they didn't mean new flavors to their product line. They meant new flavor systems!

This flavor uses lemonade as the “base”, which is common with amino acid supplements, as it is great to cover up the EAA aftertaste. However, the surprise is that the ginger hits a bit stronger than you'd expect, so if you're thinking it's just going to be weak ginger, then think again. For us, blueberry actually comes in lighter, which is great – the blueberry lemonades we've had that get too aggressive on the blueberry flavor simply taste odd and artificial.

Performax took a vastly different approach with this flavor system, and for those who are fans of something new and unique, and like the fresh feel of ginger, you're going to need to try this at some point as the weather heats up!

- Branched-Chain Amino Acids (BCAAs) Blend (3g of Leucine, 1g of isoleucine, 1g of valine)
- Essential Amino Acids (EAAs) – 2g
 - L-Lysine (750mg)
 - L-Phenylalanine (500mg)
 - L-Threonine (500mg)
 - L-Tryptophan (150mg)
 - L-Histidine (50mg)

- Pink Himalayan Salt – 250 mg (sodium and potassium)

This formula is impressive – all nine EAAs with additional alanine and glutamine, which synergize for better blood glutamine levels to reduce soreness more than glutamine itself can. The taurine dose is greater than average, and that helps with hydration alongside the salt and coconut water extract. Finally, NuLiv Science's senolytic ingredient, Senactiv, is used to help clear out old cells, making way for new cells and boosting time to exhaustion.
